Notes for Maria Mary Polly Banghart:

jcareypearce@home.com

Maria Polly Banghart married J.George Ribble in 1793. He died 2 yrs later after fathering George Ribble jr. December 25, 1800 she married Dennis Devitt, an Irish immigrant recently arrived in the German-Dutch community of Sussex, NJ. The family spelled the name DeWit while living there. By 1812 seven little DeWits had arrived. At this time the family re-located to Canada leaving behind her son George & the two oldest DeWit boys, Matthew & John. James had died in infancy. Going with them to the Hamilton, ON area was Barnabus, Barbara, John & Dennis who now all became Devitts. Maria & Joseph Banghart Devitt were added in Canada in 1813 & 1814. At this time another re-location found them moving further west into the mostly German area of Waterloo. Baby Joseph was left behind in the Hamilton area with a French Canadian family named Dionne. A family-written biography refers to him merely as Joseph, the Dionne".

Dennis & Polly are said to have had a row after moving to Waterloo at which time she packed up & fled in 1815, heading for the US. She left behind the five Devitt children, several of whom are known to have been taken in & raised by Mennonite families. It is said she picked Joseph up along the way & nothing more is known of either one of them at this time. Maria Polly Banghart was a benefactor of her grandfather Andrew Banghart's will in 1818. Her name there was Mary DeWit. Joseph was not mentioned.

One or two decades later, the Ribble's & the DeWit boys moved into southern Michigan, later into Ohio & by the 1830s there were legitimate DeWitts from Sussex Co, NJ living in Dearborn Co, IN.

Notes for Anna Elizabeth Ribble:

Date of Birth Discrepancy... Marriage Lic. Application (1902), Informal Family Documents: (1905), Certificate of Death DOB (1906). 1905 was a misprint or misread & that 1906 is correct. This would make Anna 15 when she married. Her mother was widowed laundress at the time. Falsifying age to marry children off in this type of situation was common.
